The parties shall notify the Court of all the issues that are resolved.

Date will be set by Court, usually within 10 days prior to pretrial conf.

If numerous objections are filed, the Court may set a hearing to consider all pending motions and objections.

SCOPE OF DISCOVERY

Modification. Taking into account the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, the parties’ resources, the importance of the issues at stake in the litigation, and the importance of the proposed discovery in resolving the issues, the Court modifies the parameters of discovery in the following respects. See FED. R. CIV. P. 26(b)(2).

Disclosure. The parties are reminded of the requirement, set out in this Court’s initial Order Governing Proceedings, to have already disclosed, without awaiting a discovery request, information in addition to that required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26, including names of persons likely to have, and documents containing, information “relevant to the claim or defense of any party.”

If there are any questions about whether information is “relevant to the claim or defense of any party” review Local Rule CV-26(d). A party that fails to timely disclose any of the information required to be disclosed by order of this Court or by the Federal Rules of Procedure, will not, unless such failure is harmless, be permitted to use such evidence at trial, a hearing, or in support of a motion.

Electronic Discovery. Electronically stored information will be produced in hard-copy form or multi-page TIFF format, unless the parties agree otherwise.

The parties are excused from the pretrial disclosure requirements set forth in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(3), as such disclosure is cumulative of this Court’s pretrial order procedures.

Discovery on Non-parties. Each party must serve upon all other parties a copy of any discovery request to any non-party at the same time it is served on the non-party. The requesting party must provide all other parties with any written communication concerning any discovery request to any non-party within seven days of the communication. Every discovery request to a non-party shall include a cover letter requesting that (a) the non-party stamp each document with a production number and any applicable confidentiality designation prior to producing it; (b) the non-party provide both to the requesting party and to the other side copies of all productions at the same time; (c) the non-party provide to both the requesting party and the other side copies of all written correspondence with any party concerning the non-party's response to or compliance with any discovery request (including any extensions, modifications, or postponements). If the producing non-party fails to stamp each document with a production number, the requesting party must stamp each document with a production number prior to providing copies of the production to the other side.

Expert Witness Disclosures—Materials Protected from Disclosure. The following information, documents, and materials are not discoverable, and need not be preserved or disclosed for purposes of complying with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2), Rule 26(b)(4), or any other rule, including in testimony at deposition, hearing, or trial: (a) any form of oral or written communications, correspondence, or work product—not relied upon by the expert in forming any opinions in his or her final report—shared between: (i) the expert and any persons assisting the expert; (ii) Plaintiffs' counsel and Plaintiffs' experts, or between any agent or employee of Plaintiffs' counsel and Plaintiffs' experts; (iii) Google's counsel and Google's experts, or between any agent or employee of Google's counsel and Google's experts; (iv) testifying and non-testifying experts; (v) non-testifying experts; or (vi) testifying experts; (b) expert's notes, except for notes of interviews of persons on any party's preliminary or final witness list if the expert participated in or conducted the interview and relied upon the notes in forming any opinions in his or her final report; (c) drafts of expert reports, affidavits, or declarations or comments, mark-ups, or edits prepared in connection with such drafts; and (d) data formulations, data runs, data analyses, or any database-related operations not relied upon by the expert in forming any opinions in his or her final report.

Expert Witness Disclosures—Materials to be Disclosed. Subject to the limitations of the prior paragraph, and in addition to the disclosures required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2)(B)(i), (iii)–(vi), the following materials shall be disclosed concurrently at the time that each expert report is served: (a) a list of all documents relied upon by the expert in forming any opinions in his or her report, including Bates numbers of documents previously produced (and, for the avoidance of doubt, such list, along with the disclosure required in (c) below, will be deemed to satisfy the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2)(B)(ii)); (b) a copy of all non-public documents relied upon by the expert in forming any opinions in his or her report that have not been previously produced; and (c) for all calculations appearing in the report, all data and programs underlying the calculations, including all programs and codes necessary to recreate the calculations from the initial (“raw”) data files, and including the intermediate working-data files that are generated from the raw data files and used in performing the calculations appearing in the report.

The following materials shall be disclosed within five business days of the time that each expert report is served: copies of all publications authored by the expert in the previous ten years that are not readily available publicly.

Expert Depositions. Each expert may be deposed for a total of ten hours, over two consecutive days, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. Depositions of each side’s experts will be conducted only after disclosure of all expert reports and accompanying materials.

Calculating Response Times. For purposes of calculating discovery response times under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, electronic delivery at the time the email was sent and received will be treated in the same manner as hand delivery at that time.

DISCOVERY REQUESTS

Interrogatories. Each side is limited to forty-five interrogatories in total and an additional thirty contention interrogatories (defined as an interrogatory that asks for a contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact). This limit on the number of interrogatories includes discrete sub-parts, except that individual Plaintiff States shall provide separate answers to Defendant’s interrogatories specific to that State when applicable and requested.

Requests for Admission. Each side is limited to forty requests for admission in total. Requests for admission solely to authenticate documents do not count toward this number.

Requests for Production. At this time, limits will not be imposed on requests for production. However, as discovery proceeds, if any party wishes to make or renew a request that limitations be imposed on the allowed number of requests for production, the Court will consider the motion and it will be granted on a showing that such limitation is reasonable and supported by good cause.

DEPOSITIONS

Generally. Each side is limited to sixty depositions of fact witnesses. Fact-witness depositions shall be limited to seven hours. Each side may depose any and all witnesses produced to testify on each agreed upon Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(b)(6) topic, but (unless otherwise specified herein) each seven-hour period of 30(b)(6) deposition testimony shall count as one deposition for the purpose of the side's limit (e.g., the depositions of seven 30(b)(6) witnesses for two hours each (fourteen hours in total) count as two depositions). The parties will use their best efforts to make witnesses available for deposition at a mutually agreeable time and location and without undue delay. If a witness is a former employee of any party, that party shall, within twenty-one days of the deposition notice, provide the date of departure and last known address of the former employee, whether the party's counsel can accept service of the notice, whether the party's counsel will be representing that party in connection with the deposition and, if not, the name and contact information for the witness's counsel or that the witness is unrepresented. No party may notice a deposition of a party or a non-party for a date fewer than fourteen days from the date of the notice, except that a party may cross-notice a deposition of a previously noticed non-party up to seven days before the date of the deposition.

Exceptions to Limit on Depositions. The following depositions do not count against the deposition caps imposed above: (a) depositions of the parties' designated expert witnesses; (b) depositions previously taken in response to Civil Investigative Demands; (c) cross-examination of a witness by the non-noticing side in a non-party deposition noticed by only one side; (d) depositions of individuals who are identified on a party's witness list and have not previously been deposed in this case; and (e) depositions taken for the sole purpose of establishing the location, authenticity, or admissibility of documents produced by any party or non-party, provided that such depositions may be noticed only after the party taking the deposition has taken reasonable steps to establish location, authenticity, or admissibility through other means, and further provided that such depositions must be designated at the time that they are noticed as being taken for the sole purpose of establishing the location, authenticity, or admissibility of documents.

Extended-Time Depositions of Party Fact Witnesses. All party fact witness depositions are limited to seven hours, except that each side may give the other party notice of depositions it proposes to extend up to fourteen hours based on good cause as to a specific person, and the parties will confer in good faith about the extension. This exception will not apply to executive-level employees of Google, the depositions of which shall be limited to seven hours. If the parties are unable to agree after negotiating in good faith, the parties may then seek the Court's intervention.

Depositions of Non-party Fact Witnesses Noticed by One Side. Depositions of non-party fact witnesses noticed by only one side are limited to seven hours total. During such a deposition, the non-noticing side may examine the witness for up to one hour after direct examination. The noticing side then will be entitled to conduct redirect examination of the witness for up to one hour.

Depositions of Non-party Fact Witnesses Noticed by Both Sides. If a non-party deposition is noticed by both sides, then the deposition will be eleven hours and will be divided equally between the sides, and the deposition of the non-party will count as one deposition for each side. Any time allotted to one side not used by that side in a non-party deposition may not be used by the other side, unless the side that does not use all of its allotted time agrees to allow the other side to use the remaining time.

Lengthy Depositions. For any deposition of any witness lasting longer than seven hours, either party or the witness may demand that the time remaining after the seventh hour be carried over to be completed on the next consecutive business day.

Remote Depositions. COVID-19 restrictions may make remote depositions necessary. The parties may therefore conduct depositions remotely when necessary. However, nothing in this paragraph or order prevents a party from seeking an in-person deposition. In the event that technical issues arise during a remote deposition, including problems with loading or accessing exhibits in the virtual deposition platform, the parties must promptly go off the record in order to address such issues without counting against the examiner's time on the record. Absent consent of all parties, the parties should remain on camera while off the record for this purpose.

DISCOVERY DISPUTES

In the event the parties encounter a discovery dispute, no motions to compel may be filed until after the parties fulfill the “meet and confer” requirement imposed by this Court's Local Rule CV-7(h). If the parties are unable to resolve the dispute without court intervention, the parties must then call the Court's chambers to schedule a telephone conference regarding the subject matter of the dispute prior to filing any motion to compel. After reviewing the dispute, the Court will resolve the dispute, order the parties to file an appropriate motion, or direct the parties to call the discovery hotline.

A magistrate judge is available during business hours to immediately hear discovery disputes and to enforce provisions of the rules. The hotline number is (903) 590-1198. See Local Rule CV-26(e).

RESOURCES

The Eastern District of Texas website (<http://www.txed.uscourts.gov>) contains information about electronic filing, which is mandatory, Local Rules, telephone numbers, general orders, frequently requested cases, the Eastern District fee schedule, and other information. The electronic filing HelpLine is 1-866-251-7534.

COMPLIANCE

A party is not excused from the requirements of this scheduling order because dispositive motions are pending, the party has not completed its investigation, the party challenges the sufficiency of the opposing party's disclosure or because another party has failed to comply with this order or the rules.

Failure to comply with relevant provisions of the Local Rules, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, or this order may result in the exclusion of evidence at trial, the imposition of sanctions by the Court, or both. If a fellow member of the Bar makes a just request for cooperation or seeks scheduling accommodation, a lawyer will not arbitrarily or unreasonably withhold consent. However, the Court is not bound to accept agreements of counsel to extend deadlines imposed by rule or court order. See Local Rule AT-3(j).

TRIAL

The deadlines for pretrial matters, such as exchanging exhibits, and objections, are intended to reduce the need for trial objections, side-bar conferences, and repetitive presentation of evidentiary predicates for clearly admissible evidence. Counsel should be familiar with the evidence display system available in the courtroom. Copies of exhibits that will be handed to witnesses should be placed in a three-ring binder, with an additional copy for the Court. (To make it easy to direct the witness to the correct exhibit while on the stand, Plaintiff should use a dark colored binder such as black or dark blue. Defendant should use a light-colored binder such as white, red, or light blue.) Alternatively, if exhibits have been scanned and will be presented via a computer projection system, be sure there is a way for the Court to view or read them separately so as to be able to understand motions and objections.

Counsel are responsible for informing their clients and witnesses about courtroom dress requirements and protocol, such as silencing pagers and phones and not chewing gum, reading newspapers, or eating.

OTHER MATTERS

1. Please note the amendments to the Local Rules regarding motion practice. If a document filed electronically exceeds ten pages in length, including attachments, a paper copy of the filed document must be sent contemporaneously to the undersigned's chambers in Plano. See Local Rule CV-5(a)(9). Courtesy copies over twenty pages long should be bound to the left, and voluminous exhibits should be separated by dividers.
2. If necessary, the parties should notify the Court if assistance is needed in selecting a mediator.
3. Any reply or sur-reply must be filed in accordance with Local Rule CV-6 and Local Rule CV-7(f). The parties are reminded that "[t]he court need not wait for the reply or sur-reply before ruling on the motion." Local Rule CV-7(f) (emphasis added).

So ORDERED and SIGNED this 21st day of May, 2021.
